SAY BOND ISSUE ESSENTIAL:

BG Sanitation 'Critical;' Could Lead To Embargo

BELLE GLADE — Basic economic and health reasons as to why Belle Glade citizens must do some careful thinking about the proposed bond issue for modern water treatment, sewerage and garbage disposal systems were advanced here Tuesday.

Occasion for a thorough discussion of Belle Glade's problem was appearance of two experts at the regular "Coffee Hour" of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsored by Lake Buick Co.

Introduced by City Manager C. E. Robinson, the experts were Jess Russell, of the firm of Russell and Axon, consulting engineers to the city, and Ben O'Neal, county health department.

Russell described Belle Glade's water and sewage disposal situation as "critical."

He said "it is up to the people if the city is to progress or stand still; unfortunately, a city can't stand still—it either progresses or regresses."

He described the preliminary "Municipal Improvement Program" of his firm as a request to the city commission detailing information about what the proposed bond issue would cover.

Russell said that the bond issue is presented to the electorate in the Fall for a referendum vote, citizens would be fully advised as to what they are getting for their money, and how much the cost-per-individual would be.

He said six view test wells, which would be integral units of the city water sources, have proved very successful in preliminary tests, but would be subjected to intensive tests within the next month.

Russell said he would advise extending the city's present water intake a 1/4-mile further into Lake Okechobee, regardless of whether wells are utilized as primary water sources.

"I'm cautious about Florida wells from experience in other cities," he said, and you have to have a supplementary water source available.

Mr. O'Neal said the county health department has long been concerned about the sewage disposal in mucklands "built up" areas.

"God blessed your area with beautiful, rich soil and a wonderful climate," he said. "However, your soil simply is not favorable to proper absorption of sewage."

O'Neal said an adequate sewage disposal system in Belle Glade is "an absolute necessity."

He said Belle Glade's individual-home septic tank situation is serious from a health standpoint, despite present condition of "most favorable drainage facilities."

City Manager Robinson termed the meeting "most successful and most enthusiastic." He

Unlucky Cletus Wonders If He, Too, Has Nine Lives

SOUTH BAY — How long can a fellow go on being unlucky, wonders Cletus King, youthful timekeeper for a local staff of Evans and Rogers for the past two years. Cletus, it seems, has come through (practically unscathed) another auto accident—his eighth accident in half a decade.

Cletus piled up his last model Ford last Friday night driving on a by-road between Stuart and Salerno. The road wasn't marked, and the first thing he knew a curve suddenly loomed ahead — except that it was more of a corner than a curve, he says.

Result was that the auto turned over once lengthwise and four times sideways — with Cletus and companion Max Lockhart of Belle Glade being tossed around like dice in a shaker. Both have been up and around all week, almost as if nothing had happened, so far as their physical fitness is concerned.

Cletus says he's never been charged with unlawful driving because of his accidents, and he'd welcome some suggestion as to how he can become accident-proof.

His first accident was in his native Alabama when, blinded by oncoming truck lights in the rain, he struck a blacked-out auto parked in the middle of the road. Result: a fractured skull and broken back, hospitalizing him for 18 days but otherwise causing him "not too much discomfort."

Since then Cletus has roamed the roads, with this resulting scorecard: three other wrecks in Alabama and one each in Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and —last week—Florida.

His father suggested, one time, that Cletus might cure his accident-proneness by going to bed earlier. So, Cletus did. Result: he proceeded to walk in the sleep, stumbled, broke an arm and a foot — what he considers to be his most painful accident.

"I guess I'm just an unlucky boy," sighs Cletus, "although as my accidents have gone, last week's was one of my 'luckiest.'"

Whereupon Cletus ponders happy-unhappy fate of the storied "cat with nine lives."

CITY HALL SHUTTERS

PAHOKEE — Employees at city hall have had a rough season, too, it seems. As of this weekend, city hall will be closed on Saturdays during the summer, officials announced this week.

FREE CHEST X-RAYS

The county health department recommends that all adults have a chest x-ray once a year as a safeguard against tuberculosis. It will give free x-rays at its clinic at the Okeechobee Camp to any and all Glades persons this weekend as follows: Today, 8:30 a.m. to noon, 2 to 4 p.m., and 6 to 9 p.m.; Saturday, 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

LAKE MAY SET LOWEST MARK

In two weeks time Lake Okeechobee will reach its lowest level on record unless "the rains come" and if the present per-week rate of shrinkage continues, according to the area office of the Corps of Engineers in Clewiston.

The lake measured 10.85 feet above mean sea level on Wednesday. Lowest level since the engineers started keeping data in 1930 was 10.5 feet recorded in 1932 when the lake was purposely drained to permit building of the levee on its eastern and southern shores.

The lake is dropping about 2 of a foot per week, the corps office informed OBSERVER. Some of the lowering is caused by growers using irrigation water, but most of it is due to evaporation by the sun.

Current average depth (actual depth if you were to go wading in the lake) of the vast saucer of water is 6.6 feet, according to the corps.

What's the highest level Lake Okeechobee has reached? According to the corps' record, it was in 1947, when the surface was at 18.77 feet mean sea level.

Although the engineers don't say so, it's assumed that the average depth of the lake in 1947 (when hurricanes brought much rain) was probably at least 10 feet.

If and when the rains come, Corps of Engineers will cut off lake drainage until Oct 15 and let the lake's level raise as high as 14 feet mean sea level.

Come what may, the lake likely won't ever reach its unofficial high of 20.2 as reported in 1912 by early drainage planners.

FFA REPRESENTED AT STATE CONVENTION

PAHOKEE — Van Gabaldon and Gerald Phillips will represent Pahokee FFA and join 500 other high schoolers at the state FFA convention in Daytona Beach next week.

This week both boys attended the "open house" of the new high school ag building in Clewiston, with L. E. O'Neal, chapter advisor, and Richard Phillips, Wayne Unwin, John Usher and Tom Arceneaux.

PAHOKEE — Boy Scout leaders here and in Canal Point began an intensive 10-day fund raising drive this week to raise $1,000 to help meet a quota in supporting area scouting activities — both boy and girl Scouts — the Gulfstream Scout Council.

Chairmen for drive in this area are Duncan Padgett in Pahokee and Okeola Upthegrove in Canal Point. They are being assisted in the campaign by members of the Pahokee Lions Club, the Pahokee Rotary Club, and the Canal Point Lions Club.

The $1,000 goal is twice the amount raised last year, but Padgett is confident the record vegetable season plus the theme of the prize-winning Pahokee Troop No. 28 will combine to loosen purse strings.

He said the Gulfstream Council's annual budget is $17,000, and from these funds come maintenance of the scout camp at Jupiter used by all Glades scouts, and for training of scout leaders and administrative staff.

Big Glades-wide Fourth To Be Held In Pahokee

PAHOKEE — This city will be host again this year to all Glades and Lake Okeechobee communities in another gigantic Fourth of July celebration sponsored by the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce, President F. S. "Dick" Parrish said this week.

Final plans for the celebration—even bigger than the one last year which drew thousands of spectators to Pahokee from around the lake—were to have been made last night at a chamber meeting.

Added to Fourth fireworks festivities this year will be boat races and water skiing competition among native amateurs living in the lake region.

Water sports activities will be sponsored by the Pahokee Boat Club, whose commodore, Joe Cherry, said the events would be the "biggest amateur affair yet" for Okeechobee island sports addicts.

The water program will be during the Fourth afternoon and is open to all Lake Okeechobee residents willing to put up a $1 entry fee. Race for runabouts will have highest total points on up will be held, with boats being classed according to boat size and motor size.

Water skiing has been established for male and female water skiers, who will compete in three divisions: trick skiing, slalom, and jumping.

Trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners in boat races, and to the six winners in water ski events. Points will also be awarded in the latter, with men and women with highest total points being awarded trophies as "Glades Champions."

Entries are welcome from anyone living in Lake Okeechobee communities "from Okeechobee this way and on around to Moore Haven," Cherry said. However, deadline for entries is Tuesday, June 26, and entries must be sent to the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber's fireworks committee is again headed by Milton Carpenter, an acknowledged master in the art of firing the spectacular rockets.

Port Of PB Eyes Monday Ceremony

WEST PALM BEACH — Glades residents interested in Port of Palm Beach activities are urged to be present Monday night when the port will be conferred upon the Port of Palm Beach in recognition of its efforts to aid the nations military reserve program.

Henry A. DuPont, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense, will fly from Washington to officially present the port with the Department of Defense Reserve Award Citation and Pennant in military ceremonies at the Marginal Wharf of the port at 8 p.m. Monday.

The award will be presented on behalf of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson. Port of Palm Beach is the second civilian organization to be given the award, the city of Los Angeles being the first.

Military pomp and ceremony will add color to the occasion, with the U.S. Marine Corps band from Miami providing music.

The county health department did a hasty, frantic bit of "catching up" this week. They sent us a press release last week, which we duly printed. To the question, "Is diabetes catching?" was a flat but confusing answer, "No, it is caused by a germ." This unnerved us a little, as it may have you. County health department now advises the simple little word "not" was omitted in typing, making the answer read: "No, it is not caused by a germ."

It's nice to know that in the "catching" game the county health people—not diabetes—have caught up with us.

Another press release notes that atomic energy products and processes can help kill insects. Have the A-bombs directed their efforts to the Medfly yet?

Not so funny was the escape of the two inmates last week from the state road camp at Indiantown. But their taking the camp's bloodhounds with them was, to us, an amazing wrinkle. Either like, in the case of the escapee about a week later, the dog after the horse is stolen, "stealing the horse AND the barn."

PERSISTENCE PAYS OFF: Just a year ago this month, Senator George Smathers began working to have airline service established north out of Panama City. Then, if you wanted to go to Atlanta from Panama City you had to drive to Dothan, Ala. to catch a plane. Either that or go a round-about route. Now, in slightly less than a year, a permit has been granted by the Southern Airways to fly a route from Panama City to Atlanta with stops at Dothan and Columbus. A year sounds like a long time — but in the case of granting an airline franchise, Smathers' feat was amazing. The recent extension of Delta Airlines into New York was the result of 10 years of work and negotiations. Of course, Smathers' position on the Aviation Subcommittee of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce might have helped some what.

DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE?: If you go by the total number of doctors degrees, Senator Holland ought to be able to cure anything. Tonight (June 7th) he'll be given his sixth honorary doctors degree. This one is a Doctor of Humanities, being granted by the University of Tampa, where he is making a commencement address. Last week he received a LLD from Florida State University at Tallahassee. His other include three LLD's and one Doctor of Civil Law.

A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME: Propaganda crops in everywhere these days. Newest "special luncheon" listed on the menu of the Senate dining room is "Baked Chopped Continental Steak." We tried it. Yes, you're right! Just another fancy name for hamburger.

PEANUT MEETING: Here to talk about some of the problems of marketing peanuts and peanut products were George W. Morrow, Greenwood Products of Graceville; Lynwood Seay, manager of the Marianna Peanut Company; and Roy Parrish, executive director of the Georgia-Florida-Alabama Peanut Association, of Moultrie, Ga.

HELP FOR CRAMER: The Republican leadership in the House has given a boost to Congressman Bill Cramer by appointing him to the Judiciary Committee. This assignment will give Cramer membership on two major committees — the other being his present seat on the Public Works Committee. This recent move was made possible by a vacancy caused by the death of veteran Congress-

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

The lesson to be learned from the F.I.A. windfalls is that the amount of public funds handled by government should in all cases be reduced to the minimum. No group of men of any party is capable of handling $65 billion in government money without this nature. People are not as careful with public funds as with their own. If the F.I.A. appraisers, who established excessive evaluations on which these windfall profits were based, had been handling their own funds or acting for a group of private investors, they would not and could not have made such overvaluations. As usual, government operation of business affairs in this case, has proved to be careless, inefficient and wasteful. The larger segment of government operated business, the greater will be the amount of inefficiency and waste. The cure is to take government out of business and reduce its functions to the minimum necessary to protect life and property and the few essentials which government must discharge better than individuals or private combinations of individuals.

UNDERWEIGHT

Definite underweight is not desirable in growing young people; it may be a symptom of disease. Even when there is nothing wrong, they are more likely to suffer from fatigue and poor physical endurance. Resistance to infection may be lowered. Underweight may be caused by certain diseases and glandular disorders. In healthy people it comes from eating too little, from poor eating habits, from over-activity or too little rest and from worry or prolonged tension. Meals are irregular in some families, sometimes poorly prepared and eating is considered the least important of the day's activities.

Emotions may also play a part. The feeling of being unloved, dissatisfaction with personal relationships, discontent over job, money or other restrictions cause some people to react with indifference to eating. The first step in a program to gain weight should be the visit to a physician for a thorough physical examination. It is important to find out anything which may be wrong. Unless this is done, efforts to gain may be useless.

The simplest way to gain weight is to eat more at each meal—extra bread and butter and second helpings of everything. This is necessary because underweight people must take in more calories than they use to there will be some left over to store as fat.

Often, however, underweight people seem to have a small stomach capacity. Therefore, additions of high-calorie foods are probably easier to take at first than trying to eat larger quantities. Such additions may be cream on cereals and in beverages; extra eggs in puddings, salad dressings and drinks; and butter or other fat used generously in salad dressings, cooking and seasoning. Unless they interfere with regular meals, between-meal snacks also help. So do extra milk, something to eat before going to bed and plenty of rest and sleep.

Atomic Energy Aims To Help Florida Growers

BY SEBASTIAN SOMMER

As a Southerner, you are involved in a tremendously broad atomic energy project which touches the people of 16 states and may benefit you directly—whether you farm, work in a factory, or work in a profession.

Hundreds of specialists throughout the 16 states are busy gathering information on how the South can best benefit from atomic energy through regional action. This information will be presented in a region-wide "Work Conference on Nuclear Energy" to be held in August at the request of the Southern Governors' Conference.

Your governor has appointed official delegates to the conference to guide this development, which is assembling facts on a broad scale on atomic energy applications in all phases of the region's economy.

Because nuclear energy has such wide and varied applications in industry, agriculture and health, Governor LeRoy Collins of Florida was moved to say, "atomic energy can mean the economic emancipation of the South," when he presented the idea for the work conference to his colleagues last fall.

Information is being assembled by a corps of specialists in four major fields: agriculture, industry, health and medicine, and how these affect manpower and education.

What does this mean to you? If you're a farmer, atomic energy products and processes can help kill insects, speed up hybridization, help control livestock and plant diseases, and do a myriad of other things important in your operation.

At North Carolina State College, atomic energy was used to produce three revolutionary varieties of peanuts. One yields 50 per cent more to the acre than conventional strains, another has a shape tailor-made for mechanical harvesting machinery, and another resists leaf-spot disease.

Human and animal health and the treatment of diseases is another broad field in which atomic energy plays an important role.

HOT COFFEE GOES WITH COLD MEALS

Big steaming cups of coffee lend an invigorating hot touch to an otherwise cold warm-weather menu. For a quick and easy menu one that is prepared in advance for later service, plan a tempting and colorful menu of assorted favorite cold cuts, cooked string beans and raw onions marinated in a deep flavored French dressing, and a jellied potato salad molded in a handsome shape. Serve the steaming hot coffee throughout the meal as well as with dessert for that satisfying hot accompaniment for the cold meal. Pressure-packing is a process which brings coffee to the home in a fresher, flavor-packed condition. The rounded top on the Chase and Sanborn can indicates the freshness of the coffee. Press the top. If it is firm you know the coffee inside is fresh.

Miss Bonnie Winona Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Miller of Canal Point, became the bride of Louis Carl Lombard, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Lombard of Miami on May 23.

The ceremony was performed at the Floral Park Methodist Church in Miami by Rev. James E. Roy, pastor, who formerly was pastor of the Canal Point Methodist Church.

Mrs. Miller, mother of the bride, wore a dress of blue embroidered linen and blue accessories; the groom's mother chose pink polished cotton with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony the wedding party, which consisted of the bride and groom and their parents, went to the Miami Springs Villas for the luncheon reception. The private dining room was decorated for the occasion with pink hibiscus and the two tiered wedding cake decorated the table.

After a short honeymoon in the Keys the newly weds are at home at 1010 NW 41st St., Miami.

Given in marriage by Homer Brooks, brother-in-law of the groom, the bride wore a waist-length gown of ice-blue over taffeta. She carried a prayer book covered with white orlons and tuberoses. Her maid of honor, Miss Marcella Cusack, was gowned in waist length dusty rose lace over taffeta and carried a colonial style bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium.

James Anderson of Belle Glade served as the groom's best man, and ushers were W. O. Prescott and C. W. Crosby, both of Belle Glade.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brooks on NW Ave. G. Lurline Brooks, Charlene Fowler, and Mary Alice Anderson assisted in serving. The three-tier wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

For the ceremony, the bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue sheer gown with white collar and skirt sleeves trimmed in white and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following a wedding trip to Nova Scotia, the couple will make their home in Chosen. For travelling, the bride selected a two-piece dress suit of pink rayon-rayon, white accessories, and white orchid corsage.

Dr. Rev. Henry I. Louttit, D.D., bishop of the South Florida Episcopal Diocese, will visit St. John the Apostle Church in Belle Glade, and St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Clewiston this weekend.

He will be guest of honor at a potluck supper at Municipal Park, Belle Glade, on Saturday evening. On Sunday he will celebrate the Holy Eucharist at 7:30 a.m., and administer the Sacrament of Confirmation and preach the sermon at 9 a.m. at St. John's.

At 11 a.m. on Sunday, he will administer Confirmation at St. Martin's in Clewiston to the largest class in the history of that mission. Following the service there he will meet with the vestry and building committee to go over plans for the proposed parish house.

At both churches the confirmation candidates will be presented by the pastor, Father John Clarence Petrie. All except seven children in Belle Glade were prepared for the sacrament by Father Petrie. The seven who did not receive instruction from Father Petrie were instructed by Mrs. Veronica Reichert, to whom the vicar paid a high tribute of praise and thanks.

NAZARENES DISCUSS PLANS AND BUDGET

The monthly meeting of the church board was held Tuesday at the Church of the Nazarene in Pahokee. The business of the meeting was largely to get the various members briefed on the plans and schedule for the new church year. A financial plan was discussed and a budget was presented. There will be receiving more consideration in the near future.

There will be an installation of officers during the prayer meeting next Wednesday. This will include the officers of the Nazarene foreign missionary society. The Sunday School will be installing the new officers and teachers in a service especially set up for them on June 17.

Both pastor and congregation urge the members and friends and any who are without a church home to visit and worship with them at any of their services.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, Canal Point

The safety and abundance which can be experienced through reliance on God will be a theme developed at Christian Science services this Sunday. Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" is the Golden Text from Psalms 121:3, 4: "The salvation of the righteous is of the Lord; he is their strength in the time of trouble. And the Lord shall help them, and deliver them."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (494: 10-11): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need."

Selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following (Psalms 121:3, 4): "The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore."

"TAKING THE AIR" on his front steps is "Mr. X," a manikin dressed in a poison gas and bacteria-protective suit and wearing an extra-capacity protective mask, all developed by the Army Chemical Corps in cooperation with the Federal Civil Defense Administration. FODA now has 32,000 of these masks in production. Except for the lack of boots, he would be perfectly safe even if sprayed with mustard gas or poisonous gases. An FODA secretary emerges from the air lock of a gas and germ-proof shelter built with wood frames and a new fiber "diffusion board" similar to other wallboard. This material allows air and carbon dioxide to pass in and out while filtering out poison gas and germs. The secretary is wearing a new type of civilian protective mask. (FODA Photo)

A total of 24 permits were issued in May for buildings evaluated at $82,690. Included were eight new homes, one business, 14 repairs and additions.

New homes permits were issued to N. D. Lloyd, Knight & Company, Ltd., N. B. Willis Properties, N. J. and Mary Barber, L. H. Samuels and Earl C. Paige.

Florida's forests are about 69% pine-lands. Other commercially important trees are cypress, magnolia, gums, dogwood, sweet bay, cedars, and many kinds of oaks.

Kill Huge Snake Below South Bay

SOUTH BAY — A deadly cotton mouth moccasin as big as a python, was clubbed to death 15 miles south of here off Hwy. 27 this week by a Florida Power & Light Co. crew.

The snake was "as big as a man's leg," according to C. W. Herring, crew member from Pahokee who made the kill along with mates D. L. Norman and A. E. Punderbark.

The moccasin measured six feet in length, 2 1/2 inches across the head, was 10 to 12 inches in circumference and weighed from 10 to 12 pounds, Herring estimated.

It was the largest snake he has seen in the 15 years he's lived in the Glades, Herring said.

Three-fourths of Florida's commercial timberland is under organized protection against wildfires.

Ernest (Jap) Lindrose, Jr., Edward K. Carver and Louis F. Mims have completed the two-months' Scoutmasters' Training Course given by the Gulf Stream Council, BSA, and received the oak leaf badge signifying trained leadership in Scouting.
